The Clarendon Churches

The Church of England East of Salisbury

As you probably know, in light of the Government guidance around non-essential contact, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York have issued advice that public worship is still suspended until further notice. We are now starting to see some of these restrictions being lifted and we hope to be able to open our churches for private prayer and restricted funerals shortly. As soon as we are told that services can resume, we hope then to follow our usual pattern of services, but do check the noticeboards at each of our 10 church and also the Clarendon Team website :-

www.clarendoncofe.org.

However we are continuing to have a number of services online which you can follow through the Team website. On Sundays we will have at least one service (sometimes 2) which you can watch and join in by downloading the service sheet and the readings for the day. On Wednesdays at 10am there is a Eucharist you can join in with and there may also be other special services - see our website above.

Our Team clergy and lay assistants are also available to anyone who is feeling lonely and would like to chat on the telephone. We are just a phone call away if we can help you. Our full telephone contact details are on the Team website at :-

Dear Friends,

July 2020

Let your hope keep you joyful, be patient in your troubles, and pray at all times. Romans 12.12

I am writing this just at the time when we would have all come together as a community for the Bands Night and Hog Roast and the Fete, and then the Songs of Praise Service on Sunday morning, to give thanks for the weekend's festivities.

The cancellation of these events has been one of the many results of the pandemic, gathering together is, sadly, not allowed because of the risk to our health.

But gradually, we are seeing some hope that the rates of infection and deaths are dropping throughout the country and lockdown is being relaxed.

Schools went back at the beginning of June, including our own here in Whiteparish and now the Church is open each day for you to come in and pray. Of course there are measures put in place to keep you safe, such as hand sanitizing and social distancing and I would respectfully, ask you to be mindful of them.

So what are we missing the most? For myself I miss taking services, worshipping God in community rather than online and being able share Holy Communion. So it is the face to face contact with people I miss. I know we can see friends and family, in limited numbers, outside, but it is the visits to people and the chatting to people in groups I miss. Also not being able to give people hugs or shake their hands. But for now, this is a rule I must comply with, something we have to do for the health and well being of all, and 'this too will pass'.

The cross outside the Church is now adorned with rainbows as a sign of support for the NHS and a sign of Hope. I intend leaving it outside the Church until the Church is once more open for worship and weddings and christenings as well as for private prayer and funerals.

In this village we have been very good at looking out for our neighbour and I hope we will continue to do that even once the immediate danger of the pandemic is over.

So if you, or someone you know, needs pastoral support or prayer, please do either write the details in the prayer box on the entrance table in Church or contact myself or one of the Lay Pastoral assistants whose names and phone numbers are listed over the page.

With my love and prayers for you all Jane

Prayers for the Parish

It is an essential part of the ministry of the Church to pray for the people of the Parish. As part of this, there will be prayers said for the wellbeing of the people who live in a specific area of the Parish of Whiteparish.

This month we will be praying for the people who live in the area of Bunny Lane, Broxmore Park and Ash Hill.

If, for any reason, you would like special prayers said, or a visit from the Vicar, please contact Revd Jane Dunlop on 884 793

Whiteparish Julian Prayer Group

Please find below two more poems that the Julian Prayer Group has reflected upon in the last month.

Two features of the Lockdown have a deprivation of human contact and a release of a heightened awareness and care for the neighbour. God's immense Love is so often mediated through these many acts of compassion.

ASJ Tessimond explores this in his poem 'Not Love Perhaps'

This is not Love perhaps – Love that lays down
Its life, that many waters cannot quench, nor the floods drown -
But something written in lighter ink, said in a lower tone:
Something perhaps especially our own:
A need at times to be together and talk –
And then the finding we can walk
More firmly through dark narrow places
And meet more easily nightmare faces:
A need to reach out sometimes hand to hand –
And then find Earth less like an alien land:
A need for alliance to defeat
The whisperers at the corner of the street:
A need for inns on roads, islands in seas, halts for discoveries to be shared,
Maps checked and notes compared:
A need at times of each for each
Direct as the need of throat and tongue for speech.

Threshold by RS Thomas (1913-2000)

I emerge from the mind's cave into the worse darkness outside, where things pass and the Lord is in none of them.
I have heard the still, small voice and it was that of the bacteria demolishing my cosmos. I have lingered too long on this threshold, but where can I go?
To look back is to lose the soul
I was leading upwards towards the light, To look forward? Ah, what balance is needed at the edges of such an abyss.
I am alone on the surface of a turning planet. What to do but, like Michelangelo's
Adam, put my hand out into unknown space hoping for the reciprocating touch?

RS Thomas couldn't have imagined our situation today. But how 'of the moment' this seems (although viruses aren't bacteria). And how poignant the hope for "reciprocating touch" has become!

We hope you enjoyed these poems. If you would like more details about the Julian Prayer Group please contact Rev Jane Dunlop (884793) or Sheelagh Knight (884402)

Monthly Letter, July 2020

From the Bishop of Ramsbury, Andrew Rumsey

On a Good Day

Among the songs I have listened to frequently during lockdown, one has been especially sustaining. It's called On a Good Day, by Tim Keegan - a relatively unknown but gifted and perceptive songwriter. 'On a good day', he sings, 'I can see through the clouds', continuing: 'the search for truth and love that brought me to here, will carry on - I've nothing to fear... on a good day'. It's a deeply consoling tune and, like the best songs, a kind of advocate for how we might be feeling.

Each of us needs to know that our life is understood in its highs and lows - and that, ultimately, we are known, heard and loved. The deep assurance of our faith is that this is indeed the case: the Holy Spirit, scripture assures us, not only brings the word of God alive to us, but also carries our voice to God in groans beyond speech. Our life is hid with Christ, just as his life is hid with us.

These long weeks of confinement have brought you, I'm sure, a mixed bag of experiences: some good days along with the bad - days when we have known the sun on our face and the wind of God at our back, as the Celtic blessing puts it. As we embark upon the next season of this unforgettable year, may you know God's company and comfort - and a renewed hope that 'those who go out weeping, shall return with songs of joy'.

PARISH COUNCIL NOTES

Prevent your hedges and trees becoming problems

A good time to trim back vegetation overhanging public highways, which includes footpaths, bridleways, pavements and roads is when the bird nesting season (1st March until 31st August) is over, however the public have an uninterrupted right of passage at all times of the year.

Overhanging hedges and other vegetation can cause various problems. They can obscure road users' views of potential dangers, and obstruct pavements for all, including people using wheelchairs, mobility scooters and parents pushing prams.

The owner or occupier of a property has a legal responsibility to ensure that the 'public highway' adjacent to a property is not obstructed by vegetation from their property. Please also remember that part of Whiteparish is in a Conservation Area and the owner/occupier has to comply with those regulations which applies to trees. A copy of the Whiteparish Conservation Area can be found on the Parish Council website along with a link to the regulations.

With many more residents out walking at this present time, more concerns have been raised about overgrown vegetation throughout the village obstructing the right of passage. Wiltshire Council can issue a formal notice for the work to be undertaken, and if that is ignored, they can do the work and charge the owner/occupier.

Wall at Dean Lane

Wiltshire Council has advised that there is an internal investigation into the ownership of the deteriorating brick wall at Dean Lane, near to the junction of The Green, in order to determine who this area of land should be maintained by.

Amended Planning Applications

The Parish Council has raised concerns with Wiltshire Council regarding the growing amount of planning applications where the applicant is given the opportunity to amend the application before it is decided. This causes some applications to become unconcise and muddled before they are determined.

Wiltshire Council advise that the Planning Inspectorate state the following in their guidance – 'The local planning authority should have constructive discussions with the applicant and, if it has any concerns, give the applicant the opportunity to amend the application before it is decided. This should help to avoid the need to appeal.'

Parish Council Meetings & Vacancy

During this unprecedented time, as far as Parish Council business is concerned, decision making will continue to take place. Members will be able to attend meetings remotely and the agenda will be posted on the Parish Council website, and, circumstances allowing, also on the village noticeboard. There is one vacancy. Would you like to contribute to the working of the Parish Council and be involved in decision making? If you are just the person to help make a difference and create a better future for local residents please contact the Parish Clerk for further information.

NEXT MEETING

The next Parish Council meeting is on Tuesday, 30th June 2020. The meeting will, provisionally, be held virtually. Further dates are 4th August and 8th September. Villagers are invited to attend the meetings. For further information please contact the Parish Clerk at clerk@whiteparish-pc.gov.uk

All Saints' Church, Whiteparish

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH DURING AND BEYOND THE CORONAVIRUS PANDEMIC

The Coronavirus Pandemic has had a fundamental effect on every aspect of our individual lives and our communities, and, as you will be aware, All Saints' Church has been affected enormously too. Not only have we had to close the doors to the congregation, but also we have been unable to generate the income required to fund the day-to-day work of the Church and to maintain the buildings and Churchyard. Clearly we are not receiving weekly collections from our services but we are also not able to run a Summer Fete, conduct weddings, or fundraise through running events such as the Music in Whiteparish concerts.

Even in these unusual times, it costs more than £3,500 per month to run and maintain our Church for which we are utterly reliant on the generosity of our local community.

How can you help?

At this understandably difficult time, we are asking for your help in supporting the Church to cover our day-to-day costs or to specifically help with the maintenance of the fabric of the Church and Churchyard which holds such a prominent place right at the centre of our village.

We would be delighted if those that are able would consider supporting the Church in one (or more!) of the following ways:

- Setting up a regular donation or making a one-off donation via cheque or online banking. Account details:
 - Account name: PCC Whiteparish
 - Sort Code: 30-97-41
 - Account Number: 00670149
- If you would like donations to be Gift Aided, let us know and we will get a form to you.
- Visiting our Virgin Money Giving page where you can donate directly or via Ziffit (a nifty way to donate proceeds from your old books and CDs). Please visit: <https://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/giving/> and search for "All Saints Whiteparish".
- Registering on "Easyfundraising" for the church to receive small donations from your online purchases. It does not cost you anything, does not require you to enter your bank details and only takes 2 minutes to sign up. Please visit: www.easyfundraising.org.uk and search for "All Saints Whiteparish".
- Remembering the Church in your Will or Legacy.

And finally, your help to put our church on a more stable financial footing would be enormously appreciated and make a huge difference in being able to continue being the central part of our village life.

Thank you.

The Future of Steeple and Street – from the Editor

With the help of other volunteers, I have been publishing and distributing Steeple and Street for 33 years. It is time for me to pass on the reins to others, for whom there is the exciting prospect of giving the magazine a new lease of life.

Last month, John Herrett on my behalf, sent out a short survey to get some ideas about what new direction Steeple and Street might go in. This survey aimed to provide information and encouragement for the new publishers. It was not circulated to the full readership as this would have given the impression that it was providing a consensus which the new publisher would be constrained to follow. Responses were anonymous.

Of 45 people circulated, 40 replied: this level of response in itself showed that S&S is a matter of significant interest. Ignoring one voter who skipped this and three other questions, there was unanimous agreement that Whiteparish should continue to have a parish magazine. 85% of respondents thought that the most suitable publisher would be a new independent group of volunteers. (Choices were: The Church, The Parish Council, The Memorial Trust, independent volunteers or another, to be specified.)

On the question of how the magazine should be delivered, only 8% thought that the magazine should move to be accessible only online, with an option to download (this is being trialled at the present). There was clear support for a hard copy version to be available: 75% of respondents supported an online version with a hard copy available as an option.

The nature of the magazine, with its title, cover picture and significant content from the Church, is widely seen as a Church publication. In fact it is completely independent. The fourth question asked whether the image of the magazine should stay as it is, be more secular, or be more religious. 60% of the replies thought it should be more secular, 37% stay as it is, 3% more religious.

Answers to the last question are rather more difficult to summarise: this open question asked 'Are there any changes to Steeple and Street you would like to suggest?'. Briefly, though, these were the main points to emerge:

- Support for change; a new look, perhaps with colour.
- More general information and articles about the village, its clubs and societies, sport, wildlife.
- Important that the Church sections to remain, but to be less dominant.
- Emphasis on the need for a hard copy to be available for those who wished to receive it, and the question whether or not these readers should be expected to pay for that choice.

(If you want to, the full results of the survey can be seen online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/stories/SM-2WKH2WDD/>)

So now: who would like to take over? There is clearly wide support for the magazine, which could grow with it taking on a new look and feel.

It is not envisaged that one person could do this alone, yet you may wish to be involved as an individual (already one or two people have indicated their interest). Please feel free to contact me in confidence, without obligation, and this might be a way of bringing together a group to take Steeple and Street forward. Alternatively you may want to volunteer as a team ready-formed.

I have not yet considered how the choice might be made from alternative groups, but in such a fortuitous circumstance perhaps a small panel might be formed of representatives of the main local organisations to receive proposals and award the responsibility. Alternatively, such proposals could be published in the magazine for selection by a readership vote.

Financially, the operation has been finely balanced for some time. With a brighter and more interesting image, more advertising might be attracted and a profit realised, but this is not likely to be so much that the magazine could be viewed as a business venture! My personal view is that any group proposing to take over the magazine should be very mindful of its community nature and commit to donating a good proportion of profits to charity, as has been the case in the past.

Lastly, there is no governing body to regulate the magazine. As with any publication, if the new publisher succeeds in pleasing the readership then it will prosper, and vice versa.

Whiteparish All Saints Primary School

Respect, Friendship, Perseverance, Creativity and Responsibility.

On 3rd June the school re-opened to welcome back Reception, Year one and Year six children.

Initially, only a few Owls' parents chose to send them to school but week by week, the numbers have increased, so that by the end of June Reception and Yr 1 will have two 'bubbles' in Owls and Kites classrooms and by the end of June there will be more than half the class in school.

Most of the Year Six have been back in school since it re-opened and are set up in the hall to give them all the space they need. Keyworkers' children, who have been in school all along, are in Hawks in their 'bubble' group.

Mrs Sedgefield and the staff have worked incredibly hard to ensure that the school is a safe environment for everyone. They are delighted with how well the children have responded to a very different school routine. There are staggered start and end times to the day, as well as breaks and lunchtime, so that the bubbles do not intermingle. All the children have their own separate desks, books, stationery, equipment and toys. What is very clear is how much they are all enjoying being back and seeing their teachers and friends again.

We must remember that the teachers have been working continually since March without a break, to be open for key workers, as well as providing remote learning and on-line support for the whole school at first and then, since June for Years 2, 3, 4 and 5, who are still learning at home.

At the same time, behind the scenes, the cleaning staff have worked even harder than usual to maintain a clean and safe environment for everyone. We would like to thank them too, for all their efforts.

The School Governors are extremely proud and grateful for the all that the Head Teacher and the Staff have done to manage the re-opening of the school together, as well as continuing to support home learning. We thank them once again for all their endeavours and also the children for adapting so happily to this new 'normal' way of life.

Whiteparish C19 Support Group

Our team of volunteers continue to organise and deliver prescription medication from the Whiteparish Surgery to patients in the highest risk category.

Aside from that, we have had virtually no calls for help or conversation. We believe this is good, as it indicates that everyone is getting all the support they need from others; either family, friends, neighbours, the shop, the Church, Wiltshire Council or other agencies.

Nevertheless, if you feel at any point that you need support as a result of the coronavirus situation, do get in touch. Here's a reminder of various relevant contact details:

Coronavirus-Related Scams - How To Protect Yourself

Criminals are exploiting the COVID-19 pandemic to try and get their hands on your money and personal information. To date, Action Fraud has received reports from 2,378 victims of Coronavirus-related scams, with the total losses reaching over £7 million.

How you can protect yourself from Coronavirus-related scams:

There are some simple steps you can take that will protect you from the most common Coronavirus-related scams. Here's what need to do:

1 - Watch out for scam messages

Your bank, or other official organisations, won't ask you to share personal information over email or text. If you receive an email you're not quite sure about, forward it to the Suspicious Email Reporting Service (SERS): report@phishing.gov.uk

2 - Shopping online

If you're making a purchase from a company or person you don't know and trust, carry out some research first, for example, by checking to see if others have used the site and what their experience was. If you decide to go ahead with the purchase, use a credit card if you have one, other payment providers may not provide the same protection.

3 - Unsolicited calls and browser pop-ups offering tech support

Never install any software, or grant remote access to your computer, as a result of a cold call. Remember, legitimate organisations would never contact you out of the blue to ask for financial details such as your PIN or full banking password.

NHS Test and Trace scams:

The NHS Test and Trace service plays an important role in the fight against coronavirus and it's vital the public have confidence and trust in the service. However, we understand the concerns people have about the opportunity for criminals to commit scams.

What you need to know:

Contact tracers will only call you from the number 0300 013 5000. Anyone who does not wish to talk over the phone can request the NHS Test and Trace service to send an email or text instead, inviting them to log into the web-based service.

All text or emails sent by NHS Test and Trace will ask people to sign into the contact tracing website and will provide you with a unique reference number. We would advise people to type the web address <https://contact-tracing.phe.gov.uk> directly into their browser, followed by the unique reference number given to you, rather than clicking on any link provided in the message.

The NHS Test and Trace service will never:

- ask you to dial a premium rate number to speak to them (for example, those starting 09 or 087)
- ask you to make any form of payment or purchase a product or any kind
- ask for any details about your bank account
- ask for your social media identities or login details, or those of your contacts
- ask you for any passwords or PINs, or ask you to set up any passwords or PINs over the phone
- ask you to download any software to your PC or ask you to hand over control of your PC, smartphone or tablet to anyone else
- ask you to access any website that does not belong to the government or NHS

If you think you have been a victim of fraud, please report it to Action Fraud at <https://www.actionfraud.police.uk> or by calling 0300 123 2040. If you live in Scotland, please report directly to Police Scotland by calling 101.

The Drove Road from Common Road

We would like to thank the people who have registered an interest in maintaining the ancient track. Some have asked for more precise information about its location and others about its history. The map below should help you to find it and the following reference will give a great deal of information about the history of the village: WHITEPARISH A Study of the Development of a Forest-Edge Parish by Christopher Taylor. In the Wiltshire Archaeological and Natural History Magazine Vol 62 1967. pp.79 – 102. Available online.

Please remember that this is not a public right of way but an ancient trackway which has been used by local people for many, many years. If you have older children who used it in their youth, we would be very pleased to hear from them too.

Sadly, the development mentioned last month has continued; two houses are now being advertised by Charles Powell and a planning application for the third plot has been submitted (20/04331/FUL). In each case, the Drove appears to have been incorporated into the gardens but this does not preclude an application by local people to try to retain access.

WILTSHIRE SKY AT NIGHT – JULY 2020

by Michael F. Barratt

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune all on show this month; Phases of the Moon;

I last wrote this article in the Winterslow Parish Magazine nearly five years ago since when I have moved away from the dark skies of Winterslow and have now set up our observatory in Downton on the edge of the New Forest where we have dark skies looking eastwards. We have the use of three telescopes – one 8-inch Cassegrain reflector, one 3.5-inch refractor and the small 2.5-inch refractor brought with me from Winterslow; additionally a number of pairs of binoculars of varying apertures and powers are available. We hope to start up star parties again if and when we can come out of lockdown. In the meantime please feel free to send in your observations to me – email mf2b869@yahoo.co.uk or 07768 220970.

Quite a number of your readers expressed sorrow in the disappearance of this series of articles in 2015 and so, during this present period of coronavirus lockdown, I offered to restore it for the time being and your editor will review later whether you would still like to have it in your magazine on a monthly basis after lockdown. Such is the availability of online star maps today, that whilst I reproduced one here this time, those of you with electronic devices might like to download the free app. "Stellarium" which will give you a better day to day or night to night visualisation of the sky at any time from your particular location.

This month (July) the sun still never gets far enough below the horizon for the sky to get properly dark; twilight effectively lasts all night. However by the end of the month the sky is reasonably dark from about 11.30 p.m until 3 a.m. but it does mean observational time is short and limited.

The Moon is at Full on Sunday 5th July, waning to Last Quarter on Monday 13th July becoming New on Monday 20th 13th July, after which it will wax to First Quarter on Monday 27th July. This month the Full Moon is called the "Buck Moon" or "Thunder Moon".

Mercury is hard to spot this month but will be glimpsed during the last month in the eastern morning sky well to the lower left of Venus. reaching its greatest western elongation on Wednesday 22nd July. It rises around 4 a.m. A challenge for even seasoned observers.

Venus is a brilliant object in the morning sky at magnitude -4.4 before sun rise. It lies in the constellation of Taurus ("the Bull") and on the mornings of 11 and 12 July passes just above the bright red star Aldebaran.

Mars is rising in the east around midnight, intermediate in brightness between Jupiter and Saturn (qv). During this month the red planet brightens from magnitude -0.5 to -1.1 as it travels through Pisces (the Fish).

Jupiter is "king of the night" and is at opposition on Tuesday 14th July (meaning it is on the opposite of the Earth to the Sun). It will be found blazing low in the southern sky all night long in the constellation of Sagittarius (the Archer). At magnitude -2.7 the giant planet outshines any star.

Saturn will also be found in Sagittarius just to the left of Jupiter some ten times fainter than at magnitude +0.1 but still easily seen with the naked eye. Without question, in my view, this ringed planet has the biggest "wow" factor of any other object in the night sky when first seen through even a small telescope such as my 2.5-inch refractor. Saturn reaches its opposition this year just six days after Jupiter on Monday 20th July.

Neptune is very dim by comparison (magnitude +7.8) and rises in Aquarius (the Water Carrier) about 11 pm followed by its near twin Uranus at around 12.30 a.m. Uranus will therefore be just above the threshold for naked eye observation at magnitude +5.8 (It being accepted that anything above 6 is beyond the reach of even the most keenly sighted without optical aid.

METEOR SHOWERS IN JULY

Although there are no predicted showers in July, towards the end of the month you may see the first of the Perseids – that great August shower which can be so rich – so keep a look out after about 11.30 p.m. any night during the last week in July. These meteors are well worth looking out for as they are swift and plentiful.

THE KINGS HEAD
WHITEPARISH

Re-opening July 2020

To all of our valued Customers

Whilst we are awaiting final confirmation from the Government, we are working towards welcoming you back to The Kings Head around the beginning of July!

Life has changed for everyone over the last few months and this will of course have an impact on how we re-open The Kings Head. However, to begin with we will re-open with a takeaway and outdoor only service, closely followed by our indoor dining, B&B accommodation and the pub as and when we are legally allowed.

For more information on the opening date, take away menu and how we are preparing to re-open, please check our website and social media pages.

We look forward to welcoming you all soon!
